Library Special Exhibition – Belt and Road Studies

A special exhibition is currently held at the Library until 26th February 2021, featuring books, e-books and journals in the interdisciplinary studies of Belt and Road Initiative to support learning and research in this area. As the resources displayed also touch on various subjects in the context of Belt and Road Initiative, all staff members and students are welcome to drop by and browse our collections.

Subject Guide Collection

Navigating our Library collection through subject guides allows you to peruse library resources relevant to your field of studies and research more efficiently and precisely. By using our subject guides, you may

- browse our selection of library resources to meet your various learning goals, and access them anywhere, anytime on-line where available;
- locate journal databases and e-book catalogues relevant to your topics of interest; and
- find up-to-date publications to inform your research direction.

We are pleased to announce that the complete collection of our subject guides are now available on the Library's website, and we welcome any feedback and suggestion to aid future updates and enhancement.
